BEAUTY: Lashes to lashes

A new trade body specifically for eyelash technicians is being launched in the UK.

The Lashologist UK is a not for profit organisation is set up in response to a massive growth in the eyelash industry in recent years.

Offering memberships to individuals and businesses that provide eyelash treatments in the UK, members will learn about best practice in the industry, receive industry updates and ensure their standards meet the highest health and safety requirements.

The Lashologist UK is affiliated with the Lashologist Council of America which has been operating for five years and has over 700 members.
